THE president's message is the longest on record, occupying about three pages of eight columns to the page, set in nonpareil, which is the smallest type used in newspapers. It took the clerk two hours to read it to Congress, and it is said that Senator Hanna sat and listened to it with as much interest as if he had not been consulted on every point and knew it almost by heart. His fear that the president might slip in something on him is given as the reason for his interest. The message begins with a eulogy of the late Vice President Hobart, and then it goes into the discussion of a multitude of questions, most of which have been discussed so long and so repeatedly that the public is entirely familiar with them. In fact if you are looking for anything new you will not find it in the many thousands of words that the president strings together. The nation's prosperity is shown up in high colors, much of which he thinks is due to the stable currency, which he would make more stable by the adoption and maintenance of the gold standard and keep all other money on a parity with it, even if U. S. bonds have to be sold to effect it. He further suggests a gold trust fund to redeem greenbacks with and not pay them out again, except for gold, and wants National banks to be allowed to organize with $25,000 capital. The chapter against trusts and the suggestion of legislation to curtail and correct the evil is almost funny enough for the humorous column. It won't even fool some of the people some of the time.

Of our foreign relations, the president is happy to say that the country is at absolute peace with all the governments of the world, including Spain, which is again on the friendliest of terms with us. In the matter of war in South Africa, this country has preserved complete neutrality.

For Cuba, the president asks a redemption of the pledge contained in the joint resolution of April 19, 1898, by which the United States disclaimed any disposition or intention to exercise sovereignty, jurisdiction, or control over Cuba, except for the pacification thereof, and asserted its determination when that was accomplished, to leave the government and control of the island to its people.

Regarding the Philippines, the president says their future government must be determined by Congress, but says as long as insurrection continues "I shall use the authority vested in me by the constitution and the statutes to uphold the sovereignty of the United States in those distant islands, as in all other places where our flag rightfully floats. Few graver responsibilities have ever been confided to us. If we accept them in a spirit worthy of our race and our traditions, a great opportunity comes with them. The islands lie under the shelter of our flag. They are ours by every title of law and equity. They can not be abandoned. . . . The suggestion has been made that we could renounce our authority over the islands, and giving them independence, could retain a protectorate over them. This proposition will not be found, I am sure, worthy of your serious attention."

The president makes it plain enough that he is for all sorts of subsidies and an increase of expenditures all along the line.

These are the most salient points of the lengthy document and we give them to our readers, knowing that not one in a hundred will wade through the huge mass of words to find out what the president is driving at. The opinion prevails that the message is a very prosy and mediocre state paper, distinguished for nothing save its great length.

KENTUCKY has been disgraced by another foul crime committed in revenge for another foul crime. Dick Coleman, the Negro who ravished and murdered the woman who employed him, was taken from the officers and dragged through the streets of Mayeville and burned to a stake. One of the fiends, more fiendish than the rest, threw vitriol in the burning wretch's eyes. Dry weeds and straw were placed around the screaming man and he was soon burned to death. The crime was the result and murder of Mrs. Lashbrook, two months ago, since which time the Negro has been kept in the Covington jail. The woman's husband headed the brutal mob, which has put another black spot on Kentucky's fame.

The supreme court hit the trusts a body blow in affirming the decision of the lower courts in the case of the Ad-dyston Pipe and Steel company, et al., against the United States. It holds that such combines are a violation of the law and will not be tolerated. The companies had combined to prevent competition.

THE State election board completed a canvass of the uncontested returns Tuesday, and Wednesday listened to arguments as to their rights to go behind the returns. The counties contested are Christian, Fleming, Green, Harrison, Hopkins, Jefferson, Johnson, Knox, Lewis, Magoffin and Pike. In nearly all these counties the contests are based on the alleged use of tissue ballots. In Knox county tissue ballots and masters bearing the name of John H. Wilson, who was voted for for circuit judge, are made the ground of objection, and in Jefferson county the presence of the State militia at the polls in several precincts, and Judge Toney's injunctions allowing Brown inspectors at the count, were urged as reasons that it should be thrown out.

The democrats are represented by Messrs. I. B. McCreary, T. P. Hargis, W. D. Welch, J. Willard Mitchell and R. E. Peake and the republicans by Messrs. A. E. Willson, D. W. Farleigh, Alex. Humphrey and Helm Bruce, who argued the question of the right of the board to go behind the returns, the former claiming that it was their duty and the latter denying it.

There is little more to tell with reference to the matter. Judge Hargis completed his argument for the democrats yesterday and the board took the case under advisement, promising to render a decision today or tomorrow. If they decide to go behind the returns, as the best lawyers think they have the right, Mr. Goebel and the entire democratic ticket will get the certificates for there are sufficient legal reasons to throw out a sufficiency of the fraudulent vote to give them a majority.

THE case of Polygamist Roberts promises to be long drawn out, but he will never be seated. Public sentiment is too strong against him. The committee to investigate may go to Salt Lake City on a junket at the expense of the government to find a verdict they can just as well make at home. Robert's point that McKinley has been appointing polygamists right along to offices and that the Senate has confirmed them, is well taken and goes to show that but for the notoriety given his case and the further fact that he is a democrat, the republicans would never have raised an objection to him.

THE election commissioners addressed a note to Gov. Bradley, asking him if the reports were true that he had ordered the State militia to Frankfort in the guise of citizens, in order to intimidate the board. He replied by letter, denying that he had done so and later appeared before the board and said "that no officer shall be intimidated in the discharge of his sworn duty as long as I am governor of this State, and any man who intimates that I have called soldiers here, is a malicious liar. That is all I have to say to the board."

THE Lexington Herald says the apparent attention given the speeches of the attorneys by the election commission is a mere show, the members having made up their minds long ago to give the certificate to Goebel. It is certainly to be hoped that they have reached so righteous a decision.

THE familiar face of our esteemed contemporary, the Congressional Record, again adorns our table and brings joy to our hearts, after a seven months' suspension. In the language of the old time editor we will say "Here's our tip" with joyful greetings."

THE Lexington Leader says that Owens is sold in Scott county, but it is dollars to doughnuts he doesn't get 25 democratic votes there. Owens was never very solid at home. His people know him too well.

A DISSENT says that Senator Goebel is confident that he will be given the certificate. With right and justice on his side his confidence is not misplaced and we hope to see him inaugurated next Tuesday.

POLITICIANS AND POLITICS.

It is asserted by Mr. Quay's friends that 46 of the 56 Senators favor seating the Pennsylvanian in the Senate.

Twelve contests for seats will have to be settled by the lower house of the next legislature—four democrats and eight republicans.

The president has announced his intention to appoint Mr. Brutus J. Chyrs of Richmond, one of the 12 commissioners at the Paris exposition.

The secretary of the treasury estimates the appropriations required for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1901, at $631,081,991, an increase over the appropriations for the present fiscal year of $11,235,024.

W. W. Harvey, the author of "Coin's Financial School," is writing a new political text book for the campaign of 1900. The publication will bear the title of "Coin vs Money, Trusts and Imperialism."

Addressing his republican colleagues, Speaker Henderson says that they must realize that in this Congress, with our small majority, every man, like a true soldier, must be constantly at his post of duty.

Representative Boring has introduced a bill creating two judicial districts in Kentucky, known as the Eastern and Western districts. The Eastern district will comprise the counties east of and including Franklin county, Campbell, Centerville, of Scott county, is announced as a candidate for Speaker of the Kentucky House of Representatives. The other candidates are South Trimble, of Franklin, Gen. H. B. Lyon, of Lyon county, Hon. G. W. Richardson, of McLean.

There are many millionaires in the Senate, William Andrews Clark, dem., a Montana mine owner, banker and manufacturer, is credited with $50,000,000 and is the richest of the lot. Hanna is put down with $12,000,000 and Jones, of Nevada, with $10,000,000.

Two women occupy a central place in the public eye of the capital. These are Roberts' pretty daughter, who stands loyally by her father, and Miss Helen Gould, who is supplying most of the "shinews of war" for the campaign against the congressman with the three wives.

Representative Smith, of Kentucky, introduced a bill asking for appropriations for improvements of Salt and Green rivers; $900,000 is the estimated cost of the work. He also introduced a bill to amend the constitutional provision relating to the election of Senators. His bill requires election by popular vote.

Edward O. Leigh, of Paducah, has announced his candidacy for chief clerk of the Kentucky House of Representatives. Mr. Leigh is a well-known newspaper man, and was assistant secretary of State under Gov. Buckner and also under Gov. Brown. He is a mighty good man.

After several hours of dramatic debate in the House, the Taylor resolution barring Representative-elect Brigham H. Roberts, of Utah, from taking the oath of office until a committee shall have investigated the charges of polygamy preferred against him, was adopted by a vote of 302 to 30.

Three members of the Kentucky delegation voted in favor of administering the oath to Representative Turner. They were Congressman Rhea, Allen and Turner. The remainder of the delegation recorded themselves against the resolution, with the exception of Mr. Fitzpatrick, who did not vote.

United States Senator Hayward died at Nebraska City. He was 59 years old and had lived in Nebraska City for 32 years. His election to the United States Senate was his first appearance in National politics. He was defeated for governor by Bryan two years ago, reducing the fusion majority from 18,000 to 3,000.

Ex Gov. Brown, who, we were told, was going to sweep the State upon a moral wave of "spontaneous collision," shows up with but 12,110 votes out of a total of nearly 100,000, and of that 12,140 there are contested 3,428. And thus is fulfilled the scriptural saying that from him who hath not, shall be taken even that which he hath.—Times.

Representative Gilbert does not seem at all bothered over his contest with Davison. "I have no contest," said he, "nor anything like a contest. The House has held time and again that a State legislature has a right a gerrymander, and that is all the contestant tries to make out in this case. Of course, there being a republican majority in the House, I can be thrown out, but not according to the merits of the case, if I can so term it."

There is comfort for democrats in the statement of ex-Speaker Reed that the only safety for millionaires is to firm gold standard legislation through Congress this winter. There is promise of victory at the National election of 1900. With William J. Bryan as the standard bearer, with united ranks, with opposition to imperialism, trusts and monopoly the democracy can march on to success.—Henderson-Gleaner.

Congressman Richardson, the democratic leader of the House of Representatives, is something of a man. He entered the Confederate army when he was but 18 years old and gained his laurels by bravery on the battle field. He served his State both in the House and Senate, and was speaker of the House when he was only 23 years old. He has been in Congress for 11 years, being the oldest democratic member there except one. He is now placed in a difficult position, but there is no reason to doubt that he will do as well as any one else under the same circumstances.

A dispatch to the Cincinnati Enquirer from Frankfort says: "Democratic leaders are more confident than they have been at any time since the beginning of the session of the Board of Commissioners on Monday. The trend of the arguments acted as a stimulant to some who had reverted to the guessing game, but the one thing which has served to make them willing to wager their future prospects on the victory of Goebel is the statement that the court of appeals will hand down two decisions bearing on the present contention to such an extent as to make it a certainty that Goebel will occupy the gubernatorial chair. It comes from a thoroughly reliable source that the decision is to the effect that tissue ballots used in Ohio county local option election were illegal and the election thereby is annulled. From the same good source comes the further information that the court of appeals has decided that the action of Judge Toney in forcing the election officers by injunction and threats to send them to jail for failure to sign and certify to returns from the election in Louisville which had been prepared by other persons, was illegal and that he had no jurisdiction in the matter at all."

BRIEF NEWS NOTATION.

We have not come across a more significant fact in a long time than this one: That of 200 boys and girls cared for by one of the Northwestern States as illegals at reform schools not one was born on a farm.

The Kurds have avenged the recent incursion of Russian Armenians into the Alashgerd district in Turkish Armenia by pillaging the Armenian village of Koster and massacring thousands of its inhabitants.

A rear-end collision occurred between two passenger trains on the Denver & Rio Grande, in which six persons were killed outright and several others were severely injured. The accident happened six miles east of Salida.

There is inquiry as to why Gen. Egan should desire to be restored to his duties when he is receiving full pay for doing nothing. The general is a "linguager," and the brilliancy of his profanity does not find adequate scope in private life. Besides Egan is probably tired of being made a horrible example, when there are many men much worse than he, higher up in the affairs of the government.

Latest advices from the beleaguered cities of Ladysmith and Mafeking are that the Boers are making more desperate efforts than ever to take both places. They are using new big guns just placed in commanding positions, and the bombardment is incessant. The Boers are said to be shooting with great accuracy, and several big guns of the British at Ladysmith have been shattered.

At State Line, Miss Edmund, the five-year old son of Dr. W. H. Boykin, shot and instantly killed his brother, Bulerlek, aged 11, and severely wounded in the right arm his brother, Thor, aged 13, because they wouldn't give him a plaything they had. At Dallas, Texas, Boy Norton, 11 years old, killed Nora St. Clair, 11 years old, by shooting her through the centre of the forehead with a Winchester rifle, because she snatched a toy pistol at him.

Without engineer, fireman or any human freight, "dinky" Engine No. 623 stole from the roundhouse of the Pennsylvania road, at Louisville, Tuesday, and when it came to a standstill, had traveled 25 miles. Fire had been left in the engine, and the throttle had been forced open. It crossed the Pennsylvania bridge and passed through Jeffersonville before the fire died out and the water cooled. It is estimated that the engine went at the rate of 60 miles an hour. Fortunately there was no collision or accident.

Dewey and Credit Sharing.

There are many excellent characteristics and qualities in Admiral Dewey which excite the admiration of the American people, but none which so thoroughly warm their hearts toward him and enkindle such deep and enduring affection as the always thoughtful care and interest he takes in his men, not simply the "men behind the guns," but as well the men down in the heated engine rooms and stifling coal bunkers, who give that propulsive energy to the ship without which she would be powerless.

After being informed by the New York committee of the elaborate plans that had been made for his reception in that city he modestly asked:

"What are you going to do for my men? They will want to take part in the celebration."

When assured by the committee that the crew of the Olympia had not been forgotten and that they would have an important place in the New York festivities, the admiral expressed great satisfaction and told the committee to go ahead and do with him as they desired.

This was one of the many incidents in connection with his reception in the nation's metropolis and at the national capital which showed the great captain's anxiety that his own personality should not be made to eclipse the officers and men to whom he seems inclined always to give larger measure of credit for the victory at Manila than he is willing to accept for himself. This is evinced in the warmth of affection with which he greeted Tagilian, Dyer, Wildes and Walker, who had preceded him home. There was throughout all the demonstrations an ever apparent desire that all his captains and all his men should share the honors with him.

The American people esteem highly this quality. It is an element both of greatness and of goodness that appeals to them with peculiar power. They admire in the highest degree the courage and dash which destroyed the Spanish fleet at Manila and the diplomacy and rugged good judgment exercised in the trying situation which followed the battle, but his countrymen love him for his simple good humor, his spirit of comradeship, his unselfishness and his modesty.

Few men who have won such honors and been the recipients of such ovations as those accorded to Admiral Dewey have been able to keep their balance or govern their tongues. Throughout it all Admiral Dewey has made no mistakes. He has not lost his head nor stopped over. There has been on his part no posing, no theatrical attitudes, no self laudatory expressions. He has been insensible to flattery, and adulation has not spoiled him. Saying the right thing at the right time, shrinking from every exhibition of fulsome praise, his bearing has been that of a modest, unassuming sailor, and this has wholly won the hearts of his countrymen.

It seems to be practically settled that the triumphal arch erected in honor of Admiral Dewey and his sailors at Madison square, New York, which was not only the chief decorative feature of the Dewey celebration in that city, but a work of art of surpassing merit, will be perpetuated in enduring marble, though probably not at the same place the temporary structure was erected. Wealthy and public spirited citizens of the metropolis have organized a movement to make the arch permanent, and there seems to be no doubt the necessary funds will be forthcoming. Thus will be preserved for future generations an object of great beauty and patriotic interest. It will typify American love of country and commemorate the achievements of the American navy, as well as the fame of the great admiral.

Some Keep On.

"I suppose," said the young man who was being shown through the magazine office "that every one who sends you a poem or a story which you are compelled to decline stops taking your publication as soon as his or her manuscript is returned."

"Oh, no, indeed," the editor replied. "If that were so, we wouldn't have any subscribers left."

"How does he manage it?"

"Carries a chunk of ordinary cheese labeled 'Lumber' ostentatiously in his hand."

"Cleveland Plain Dealer."

Action and Reaction.

"Daughters are a great anxiety."

"How so, Mrs. Noach?"

"If you don't dress them handsomely, they are not attractive, and if you do dress them handsomely men are afraid to marry them."

"Chicago Record."

Rough Riders.

"Who are these Chicago rough riders who have just formed an organization?"

"I don't know for sure, but I think they are bicyclists who live on badly paved streets."

A MODERN FABLE.

The Story of the Elephant Who Was Very Ignorant.

Once there was an elephant that tired of life in the jungle, so he decided to join a circus at the first opportunity. Shortly after making up his mind on this point he was strolling through the forest, cursing the flies high and low, when he came upon the agent of a great American circus who was engaging African talent for the following season. Although the agent saw him coming, he paid no attention to the discontented elephant, who naturally felt slighted.

"Hello!" he trumpeted. "Wouldn't you like to have me grace your circus?"

"Oh, I don't know," carelessly replied the agent. "What stunts can you do?"

"What can I do?" asked the surprised elephant.

"Well, you're a bright one, you are," sarcastically replied the agent. "Can you balance yourself on the tip of your trunk, or turn a back somersault, or play the intermezzo from 'Cavalleria Rusticana' on a slide trombone, or do a high dive into three feet of water, or conduct an orchestra?"

The poor, bewildered elephant meekly acknowledged his inability to perform any of the feats mentioned.

"I thought so," remarked the circus man. "Now, if you'll attend a dramatic school for five or six years and study hard about 15 hours a day I'll make you an offer that'll..." But with a loud roar of despair the stagestruck animal took to the woods.

Briefs From Billville.

We understand that all Dewey needs in his new house is coal. We haven't any coal, but we have shipped him two carloads of Georgia light wood knots, with our compliments.

Brumley day was even more than we expected. All of our relatives swooped down on us, and we had to hire a freight train to take 'em to it.

Billville is not represented in the legislature this year. Our late representative got a government pension for having his leg cut off while reading war news, and he has gone to Ty-Ty to spend it.

We have no advice to give the Georgia legislature. The members got in there, and they know what for.—Atlanta Constitution.

A Process in a Pin.

"Yes, I quarreled with Stiggins."

"What's the trouble?"

"We have adjoining suits in the same flat. Stiggins snores so that he shakes the partition. All I did was to ask him if he wouldn't kindly cut his snore into trombone lengths and load it into a mechanical piano."

"What did Stiggins say?"

"He advised me to get my ears weather striped."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Ubiquitous.

"What is a totem pole?" suddenly asked Mrs. Wipstulka, who had been reading about Alaska.

"You ought to know what that is from the word itself," answered Mr. Wipstulka severely. "A totem pole is a long stick of wood the Chinese peasant puts on his shoulders when he wants to carry two buckets of water."—Chicago Tribune.

Had Her Doubts.

"I don't believe professors know so very much," said Maude.

"Why? How can you talk so?" rejoined Maude.

"Well, I don't see why Mr. Fulpat should have seemed so surprised and puzzled when I asked him how to say 'rubberneck' in Greek."—Washington Star.

Willing to Observe.

"I won't take those pictures," said the woman angrily. "Why, they make me look like a fright!"

THE PUMPKIN'S LAMENT

I wanted some laughing urchin to carve me into the form of a man.
That, taken for one of the career race, I might get a pat on the back on my face—
"Tis only such mortals who can."

But here must I languish, deep in the dough,
And stunner and stifle and die.
Not I have a hour's beyond the pan.
I yet will get "into the form of a man."
For here he comes now for the pie.
J. A. Coak.

Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, a successor to Henry Ward Beecher, in his book, "A Man's Value to Society," says: "Statisticians reckon the average man's value at $600 a year. Each worker in wool, iron or brass stands for an engine or industrial plant worth $10,000, producing at 6 percent an income of $600. The death of the average workman, therefore, is equivalent to the destruction of a $10,000 mill or engine. The economic loss through the unproductivity of 20,000 drunkards is equal to our Chicago fire involving two hundred million dollars."

We Must Have Boys.

REV. NORMAN PLAINS.

We must have more boys," burst the villager's cry.
As they clink their jangling glasses:
"Tis strange how fast the drunkards die!
A hundred thousand graves heaped high
Each year makes off as it passes."

We must have more boys—at least twelve each hour
We must win by cunning devices,
To gather the brightest of youth's flower,
From the garden of home and innocence's bower.

We must use every art that cunning,
We must have more boys. Then let friends to send
To make their persuasive offers:
Get the boys to drink! "A nickel that's spent
On a glass for a boy, is money lent
In bringing back dollars to our coffers."

We must have more boys; for only with
Is the army of drunkards recruited.
Say the fathers' hopes and mothers' joys,
Use the devil's most deceptive decoys,
And render the boys indurated.

We must have more boys; see, the prison walls
For those we shall school in drinking:
The almshouse yawns, the asylum gates
Gape wide to engulf the inebriates
Grown from boys we succeed in winning.

We must have more boys. Then let us begin
To persuade them in every quarter:
With a hustle and bustle and din we shall win;
There scurry and hurry them into their sin:
Push them on like sheep to the slaughter.

MILLIONS GIVEN AWAY.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The people of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine, and have the satisfaction of knowing it can absolutely cure thousands of hopeless cases. As lung, bronchitis, hemorrhages and all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs are surely cured by it. Call on Dr. King, Druggist, and get a free trial bottle. Regular size 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed or price refunded.

His line of everything in Christmas goods, which you are cordially invited to call and see. George H. Harris & Co.
W. GREENING, of Hustonville, is getting together machinery for a stage heading mill he will put on at Moreland.

ICE is thick enough on the ponds for the small boy to skate on. This morning is clear and crisp with the mercury at 20 degrees.

CHRISTMAS goods beautiful and cheap. Line of hand-dressed sundries also received. Come and examine. The Minute Store, 5 and 6 West.

THE L. & N. went out in the suit of Baughman & Beasley against it, which was on trial yesterday in Lancaster, and mentioned in our letter from there.

ALL the lots in Middleboro seem to be advertised for sale for taxes and the includes the names of several Stanfords, who hotly loved the land.

THE K. C. Branch is a nuisance. The day train is hardly ever on time and the consequence is that No. 21, which waits for it at Rowland, is late getting here nearly every day.

THE town is flooded with spare ribs and back bones which sell at low prices. Sausage only brings life and the these prices and turkeys on foot at 5c, town people want starve, even if they people do not get rich.

THE Lancaster Record says: Right over Henry Lammer only got to run a new engine a few trips when it was sent south and an old one of larger capacity given him. Capt. Phil Price says Lammer is now in sackcloth and ashes over his loss.

THE Southern railroad surveyors will be here today. Mr. I. M. Hince received a dispatch from them to send a disponent to Elrod, Putask county, for them and he did so last evening. We hope to have a good report from them for our next issue.

THE court of appeals reversed the decision in the case of the Board of Executors of the Methodist church, South, vs. Dr. W. N. Craig, &c. The controversy was over a bequest of the late Harney Van Arsdale to the church and the decision seems to be in favor of the church.

MASS presents at Hamilton's.
Go to Dalton for good watch work.
All sorts of Dried Fruits at Warren & Shanks.

F. D. BALLOU has increased the size of his store by taking in a part of the Myers House dining room.

A PAIR of gold eye glasses was found by Dallas Thompson, who will deliver them to the owner when he proves property.

VAN CAMP'S canned soups of all kinds, pumpkin pie, plum pudding, mince and cheese. George H. Harris & Co.

W. W. WILKINS will have a big Christmas opening about the 15th. Come in and make your selection before the goods are picked over.

THESELINGS as secure as yours burn every day, why should you expect yours to escape? Go to Jesse D. Wearen and secure one of his dwelling house policies.

A HASTY suit involving two prominent families of Lincoln county will be instituted at Louisville. The man in the case alleges blackmail and will defend it on that plea. The birth occurred in Louisville and the woman lay at the point of death for a long time.

A FELLOW bought a $3,000 farm in Missouri on the strength of his claim that he was a son-in-law of bachelor George E. Stone, of Liberty, but when he gave, as first payment, a check on the Liberty bank for $200, the credit father-in-law, so called, let it go to protest.

WE know of at least two ex-convicts that the carpenters gave passes to go to Frankfort and help in building the election booth, Paul and Vaughn. One of these is in jail at Frankfort now and his pardon was granted on the promise of good behavior, to be returned to the pen to see he broke it.

HEHILL. A dispatch from Lexington says that Spencer Hubble died in the Asylum there, where he had been confined for some time. His remains will be brought to Lancaster for interment this afternoon. He was 55 years old and married a Miss Hubble, who survives. They had no children.

IN TWO PLACES. Mrs. Ben Johnson, of the Maywood section, was thrown from a buggy and had her hip and thigh broken. Drs. O'Hannon and Morris were called and they set the broken member and the patient is resting reasonably well. As Mrs. Johnson is 52 and weighs over 200 pounds the fractures are the more serious.

IF SPELMAN RICE will open the lecture season here Dec. 29. Of him the Birmingham Age-Herald says: H. Spelman Rice's talents are varied. He is a splendid speaker, tells a story charmingly, sings well, and does a professional whistling turn. In fact he is an all-round entertainer such as is seldom seen in Birmingham. He is an artist of the most refined type and the audience applauded him almost continuously.

FIFTY DOLLARS. That is the amount of fine that Judge Bailey assessed against Rades Rice for peddling without license. Mr. Rice, who represents a Cincinnati house, and sells eggs and lace curtains, plead ignorance of the law, but it was of no avail and would not have been even if the court had believed it. The fine and costs were promptly paid and then Mr. Rice invested a $10 bill in a license to peddle in Lincoln county for three months.

THE city council at its meeting last night ordered Clerk L. R. Hughes to notify druggists not to sell any more liquor till they secure license to do so, which will cost $250. J. A. Allen, B. K. Wearen and J. W. Rout were appointed supervisors of the town tax assessment. J. L. Beasley returned the assessment and was allowed $50 for making it. The salaries of officers were fixed at the present rate for the next two years. W. E. Varnon and J. S. Hundley were appointed a committee to settle with the tax collectors. The other business was routine.

DR. W. D. TARDIF has received notice of his election as assistant surgeon with charge of the dispensary, of St. Mary's Hospital, at Columbia, S. C., his old home. The institution is supported by the Episcopal church and the position will pay Dr. Tardif much more than his school here. He will accept it and go thither Jan. 15. The doctor has been principal of the colored high school here for several years and has done much to elevate his race, who will miss him greatly. He will accompany with him the good will and respect of the white people who recognize his worth as a man and as an educator.

THE cost of insurance is only a few cents a week so go to Jesse D. Wearen and insure your property.

HAVING employed J. A. Hendren, I am prepared to do all kinds of harness making and repairing. J. C. McClary.

IN order to reduce our stock, will sell hay at a very close price for the next few weeks. J. H. Baughman & Co.

OUR thanks are extended to Editor M. F. Hetherington, of the Lebanon Falcon, for a nice notice of our Illustrated Houses of Reform edition.

THANKS. J. K. Christian says if you want to sell your turkeys get them to him here by Dec. 12. He has bought 5,000 or 6,000 at 5c and is still paying that, although the market is depressed.

SOME of the intimidators broke into jail at Frankfort, breaking into Paul, of this county, who got on a tear and defied the town. Like the others arrested, he was armed with free L. & N. railroad transportation, good only until Dec. 13 and a big 45 Colt pistol which, as a policeman expressed it, was large enough to shoot bottle corks. W. T. Ferguson, of Rockcastle, was given a sentence of 30 days in the workhouse for carrying concealed weapons, and a fine of $2 and costs for being drunk and disorderly in the city. A school teacher named Phillips, of Rockcastle, and Charles Province, of London, were also jagged for being drunk and disorderly. All of the men had L. & N. passes in their pockets, good till after the inauguration, and they were evidently hauled off to swell the army of intimidators, who were to force the State board to do their bidding. All were given the same sentence of Ferguson. The last one and those who sent them thither ought to be in the penitentiary.

Paul afterwards replevied his fine and was released.

GEORGE STONE'S SON-IN-LAW. Some weeks ago a smooth gentleman reached Liberty, giving his name as Johnson. He put up at the hotel and stated that he desired to purchase a farm. He claimed to have money to burn, and a number of anxious farmers showed him their lands. He remained some days and made rather a favorable impression. When he left it was in answer to an urgent call. In two weeks after he took his departure a check for $200 on the Liberty bank, signed by Johnson and dated at Holden, Mo., reached the cashier of the Liberty bank. Mr. Johnson having no funds, the check went to protest. Upon further investigation it was developed that Mr. Johnson had purchased a farm in Missouri for $3,000, and borrowed $500 from the man with whom he traded, stating that he had $5,000 on deposit at Liberty, Ky. He also represented that he was a son-in-law of Hor. George E. Stone. As everybody knows Mr. Stone to be a single man the boys about Liberty are having much sport at his expense. - Columbia News.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

MR. J. Quincey Ward and Miss Elizabeth Woodford Spears, well known Bourbon county society people, were married at the home of the bride's uncle, Col. E. P. Clay.

Julia Marjorie Taber, the well known actress, has applied for a divorce from her husband, Robert Taber, on the grounds of intemperance and neglect, and refusal to support.

Lula Buchanan, a 11-year-old Louisville girl, eloped to Jeffersonville and was married. Monday she went to school as usual but her marriage barred her from further attendance.

AT Columbus, O., Peter Sells, the ultimatum circus man of the Forepaugh Sells Bros. shows, filed a petition for divorce on the ground of adultery, naming Wm. Bott, of the firm of Bott Bros. and Harris D. Lyons, a prominent railroad man, as co-respondents.

CHURCHES AND PREACHERS.

Rev. I. S. McClary, Louisville, has accepted a call to the Presbyterian church at Cynthiana.

Elder Joe Seymore will preach at the Christian church, Hubble, Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

Revs. Granville Dockery and J. M. England recently closed a meeting at England church, in which there were 24 additions.

Rev. J. I. Willis closed a meeting at Speedwell, Madison county, Sunday night with 20 additions. Winchester Democrat.
